MAGNETIC

for creativity to impact the world

Magnetic was born where two things met: what was already there and what came along.

What was already there was Downtown Studio. A place whose values (the individual at the heart of the collective) already carried, without knowing it, what Magnetic would build on.

What came along was Together, the immersive experience of the Portail des Nations. In making it, our creativity served to convey a strong idea, and in doing so to impact the world for the better.

From this encounter came something obvious:

If creativity could convey an idea to the world, could it not become a method for acting upon it*?*

MAGNETIC

For creativity to impact the world

For centuries, Geneva, a city of welcome,
has given rise to ideas, institutions
and forms whose reach goes far beyond its own territory.

In 1929, the writer and thinker Robert de Traz gave this singularity a name:

"L'Esprit de Genève."

A tradition of the city's own: giving birth locally to forms able to spill over into the world.

Three different ways of reaching the universal from one place.

This dynamic has produced major forms of the common good:

Multilateralism,
which gave rise to the UN

The International Committee of the Red Cross.

etc.

The Geneva Conventions.

La Revue de Genève.

In each case, a local initiative, able to gain
a reach far greater than itself.

Until now, this spirit has mostly expressed itself in the institutional field.

Our aim is to activate it in the field of contemporary creation to extend its transformative power by other means.

in the institutional field.

Our aim is to activate it in the field of contemporary creation
to extend its transformative power by other means.

The project proposes to make Geneva a contemporary laboratory for this transposition.
A space where a tradition historically fertile in the political field can be translated into cultural, artistic and experimental practices that work for the common good.

What is at stake is testing a capacity for impact through creation.

Creatively reactivating the Esprit de Genève
to make creation
a tool for rethinking the common.

01

BE RIGOROUS

Seek what is right rather than what is striking.
Hold form, idea and gesture together.

OPEN THE DIALOG

02

OPEN THE DIALOGUE

Bring disciplines, cultures
and knowledge together.
Creation is built through exchange.

03

SERVE THE COMMON

Design forms that do not close in on themselves.
Make creation a space
of relation, use or sharing.

04

BUILD TRUST

04

BUILD TRUST

Welcome divergence without trying to erase it.
Make neutrality a fertile ground
for experimentation.

05

GO BEYOND BORDERS

Start from a precise place while aiming wider.
Produce forms able to resonate beyond their original context.

BUILD TRUST

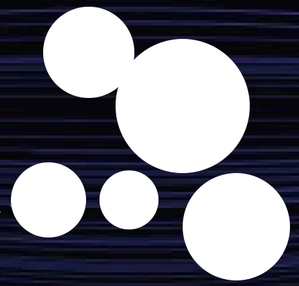

06

SHARE KNOWLEDGE

Document, pass on, make accessible.
An idea gains strength when it can circulate.

The Esprit de Genève is not only a heritage.
It is a singular way of acting on the world,
and our ambition is to test
its full strength today through creation.

This idea was presented to Laurent Finck, of Lumens 8, who immediately wanted to join the initiative, offering his creative resources for the projects to come.

Magnetic was launched.

A month later, François Moncarey, of Geneva Lux, was won over in turn and gave us the association’s first project: la Tour des Possibles.
